Love is all about...

- Intimacy
- Having a shoulder to lean on
- Something to look forward to

Or maybe,
it is...

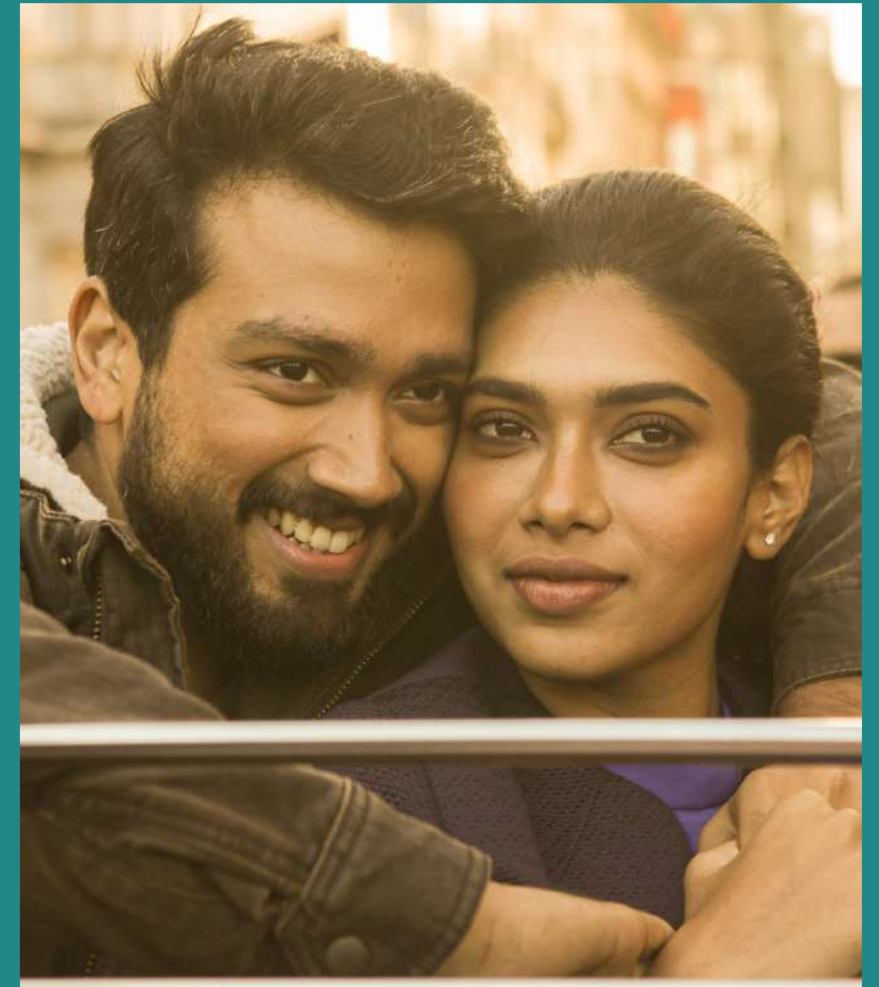

- Believing in yourself
- Choosing the best for you
- Putting yourself ahead of others

But, could it also be...

- Being hopeful of a future
- Certainty
- Surrendering to what it can offer

A bit of everything!

Karthik likes a bit of everything, black, milk, sugar and some cream!

Sujitha likes it simple but with a dash of hazelnut to make it less boring.

Priya likes it strong, less sugar, double black and a dollop of flat white.

But, all three of them love a doze of love to be poured quite generously over the coffee!

The journey!

*Life's all,
but a deck
of tarot!*

Sometimes, you get what you wish.

The other times, you wish you got what someone else didn't want.

Sometimes, you anticipate the worst.

The other times, you fear the good.

Every time, the card is chosen, determines not just your fate but also those who rely on you and the ones you rely on. What if the one reading your cards is the one from your past you wished never to see again. Or what if they are who possess the power to alter your present? Are you willing to play or let it pass?

The perfect brew...

- A story of three ordinary individuals travel on an extraordinary journey of love, deceit, self-discovery, loss and much more. A journey so simple yet so flavorsome. A journey that is worth being a part of.
- The story follows the lives of Karthik, Sujitha and Priya in the beautiful backdrop of London, three people with different views on love but with a strong affiliation to coffee! What happens when a man in his late twenties discovers love after a phase of losing hope in the very definition of it? What happens when a girl in mid twenties is challenged with her idea of love vis-a-viv to the one she is experiencing in life? What happens when a girl who is touching 30 is torn between choosing love and herself and ends up hurting one of it? It unravels and intertwines these three starkly different yet similar personalities who are in search of love, life, and everything in between that, with a handful of hope and the other holding a mug of coffee!

The King, Karthik!

Karthik is a vulnerable yet very rooted, sensitive guy who is in his late twenties. He works as an Operations head in London, he is back to the city after almost 9 years as he finds ways to take up projects that keeps him out of London coz the city reminds him of Priya, his ex, Y and Z. While her thoughts lingers in his mind everyday, he bumps into Sujitha, a 'love by chance' episode that turns into a new beginning. With everything going beautiful between them, he meets Priya in the most unpredictable situation and now he is back to where it all started!

With Sujitha's love that kept him surviving on one side, and Priya's love that kept him alive on the other, Karthik is torn choosing between his mind and heart.

The Queen, Sujitha.

Sujitha works as a Sr. Marketing manager in a London based bank. She is a friend who'd want to talk to. The girl you want to crush a few more minutes at a crowded café. The lover who is on your wishlist. Simple, uncomplicated, loving and understanding, traits that seem so mundane yet so difficult to master. That is Sujitha for you! Working as a brand manager in a leading bank, she goes about her life and is hit by a wave of love, Karthik! Their love blossoms from a stranger to an acquaintance to a friend to deciding wall colors for the house. But, what would you do if your love is put to test, would you doubt your choices or go with the flow?

The Ace, Priya!

Priya heads the P&L for the South Asia wing of a London based bank and is based out of Singapore. Sometimes, she is all layers like an onion, and the other times, a pinecone! Priya is intense, self-absorbent, strong willed and passionate about what she does. Priya's life is a carefully laid set of cards that is played by herself, as she fears the unknown. Priya's love for Karthik is eternal, so much so, she had to let go of him to carry his thoughts in her life. But life leads her to meet him once again in a circumstance she least expects. Would she give in, or would she let him be? Would she give him closure or would she meddle his current? Priya, a beautiful tornado that you'd want to be pulled into! Who will she choose, when the option has her on the cards too!

The setting

The picturesque London!

Set in the beautiful and bustling backdrop of London, the film explores the serene side of the city that is a birthplace for romance and all things love!

Karthik's return to London after 8 years gets him falling for the city all over again. He did his masters in Wales and has been in London for over a decade. Did he find a closure to his past or maybe if opened another gate of possibilities!

Sujitha's taste of London is rather new! She got the offer through her previous bank experience in India. While exploring London, she also explores a side of her she never gave a chance!

Priya's slice of London comes to life when she sets foot in the city after almost a decade. Will lost love find its way into her life or did she walk in between a tornado and order a cup of filter coffee!
